Canada Employee Benefits Guide
Benefits, United

At United Rentals, we're grateful for all the hard work you do. We understand that your responsibilities don't end when the workday does, and neither should your employee benefits. We've created three pillars to show how your benefits provide unity and balance for you and your family. Together, these form Benefits, United.

This guide provides a summary of our benefits offerings for non-union employees. Unionized employees should review their collective bargaining agreement to determine what Company-sponsored benefit plans they would be eligible to participate in.

Disability Insurance

If you have a serious injury or illness that keeps you from working, how will you pay your bills? Disability insurance replaces a portion of your income when you are unable to work due to a qualified illness or non-work-related injury.

Short-Term Disability (STD)

A scheduled surgery or unplanned illness or injury could keep you off the job and without income for an extended period of time. STD can protect part of your paycheck should you become disabled. This benefit ends at retirement or age 65, whichever is earlier.

STD is provided at no cost to you. You are automatically covered as a full-time, non-union employee — no enrolment is needed. This benefit is subject to income tax when it is paid.

COVERAGE	BENEFIT
Short-Term Disability	<ul style="list-style-type: none">70% of your weekly earnings to a $1,500 weekly maximumBenefits are payable immediately following an injury, or on the 8th day of illness, up to a maximum of 17 weeks.

Long-Term Disability (LTD)

Long-Term Disability benefits are intended to be a source of income replacement if you become totally disabled due to non-work related injury or illness. This benefit ends at retirement or age 65, whichever is earlier. Coverage is provided to eligible employees with no payroll deduction. As a result, the benefit is subject to income tax when it is paid.

COVERAGE	BENEFIT
Long-Term Disability	<ul style="list-style-type: none">66.67% of your monthly earnings up to a maximum of $7,500 per monthBenefit begins after 119th day of disabilityMonthly earnings exclude bonuses, dividends, overtime, or profit sharing, etc.

If you are part of a Union and covered under a Collective Bargaining Agreement (CBA) that offers Disability benefits, your coverage may vary. Please refer to your CBA.

An Example: How STD and LTD Can Work Together

Let's say you have an accident on the ski slopes and you must be away from work due to your injuries. Here's how your disability benefits would work:

- For the first seven days away from work due to an illness, you may use your accrued sick and/or vacation time and receive your regular pay. Note that you are able to collect STD benefits immediately following an injury.
- For the next 17 weeks, you would receive STD benefits equal to 70% of your pay, up to $1,500 per week.
- If you are out longer than 119 days and cannot perform your job, LTD benefits would begin and would replace 66.67% of your pay, up to a maximum of $7,500 per month. These benefits would continue until you no longer meet the definition of disabled as defined by the insurance company.

A qualifying disability is a sickness or injury that causes you to be unable to perform any other work for which you are or could be qualified by education, training, or experience.

*Waiting period does not apply to disability due to injury
